

Windmöller & Hölscher KG
Münsterstraße 50
49525 Lengerich/Westfalen

December 17, 2003

Our Reference: 8412 PCT

Withdrawal Device

Abstract

The present invention relates to a withdrawal device for films manufactured in the blow-molding process. A withdrawal device of such type has air turning bars and deflecting rollers that as a rule reverse against one another and usually rotate around a common axis.

The withdrawal device proposed by this patent application is characterized by the fact that the surface area of at least one of the air turning bars comprises at least in part of a sintered material.